

★ JUNE 28 ★ BENTONVILLE, ARKANSAS

Greetings,

Walmart is in its fifth year of a 10-year commitment to purchase an additional $250 billion in products that support American jobs. Walmart continues to play a role in accelerating growth in U.S. manufacturing by collaborating with suppliers, convening with industry experts and leveraging our scale.

As we seek out new innovative U.S.-made items, we will once again host an Open Call. Registration is now open for Walmart's 2017 Open Call. We invite both current and potential suppliers to apply to attend. Open Call will be hosted at our corporate offices in Bentonville, Arkansas, on June 28.

Walmart buyers will be on hand to meet one-on-one with selected companies during the Open Call. Our Supplier Administration and Walmart.com teams will also be available to help suppliers get started with doing business across our platforms.

Highlights of the event include:

- Hear an update from Walmart leadership about our progress (stay tuned for live broadcast info)
- Product pitch meetings with buyers
- Learn the latest customer insights on Walmart shoppers
- Supplier Academy learning sessions
- Join us for the closing session and network reception

Highlights from the 2016 U.S. Manufacturing Summit and Open Call can be viewed here.

Space is limited, so apply by sending us your product proposal today. Registration closes May 18. Questions can be directed to support@walmart-jump.com.
